

Readings and Events Submission Form ---- Sponsor(s) and Volunteers:

The Writers Place sponsors three reading programs: The Writers Place Reading Series at TWP, Riverfront Readings at TWP, and the JoCo Central Library WP Readings. Because of so many requests, a featured reader (does not include group or open mic readings) may read only once for all three of these groups combined. For example, if you are booked for a Riverfront Reading, you won't be eligible for either of the other two until the next calendar year.

How will you promote this event and bring an audience?
The Writers Place's Programming Committee evaluates all reading requests. We usually have all three of our writing series booked for the following year by November. We leave a few slots open for traveling national writers. The Workshop committee evaluates all possible adult workshops.
Upon approval we will need a jpeg photo and a brief bio for publicity as well as a longer bio for introductions.
